Fit Week fun shelved for 1992

By Janice Harrington

Fit Week festivities will not be celebrated officially this year in the Town of Didsbury.

Recreation Coordinator Dwayne Van Bavel said no official declaration of the national week which celebrates physical fitness and activity has been made in Didsbury.

"My guess is they hadn't had a recreation coordinator for a while and there were priorities," Van Bavel said. "Some other things had to come first."

Canada Fit Week, which runs May 22 to 31 has traditionally been recognized in Didsbury with Sneaker Day and the Participation Day Challenge, but this year, no such activities are planned.

But not all groups within the town are letting the week pass by unnoticed. The hospital's Education Services department is planning a "Take a Hike Day" to get hospital employees and other interested Didsbury residents into the physical activity mode.

Terry Bourgonje, Mountain View Health Care Centre Education Services Coordinator, said her department, along with dietary services, has organized this special day to get people out and walking during their lunch hour.

"The idea is to get everybody participating, get everybody out walking down to the campground area [just east of the hospital]," Bourgonje said. "The cafeteria is going to be selling brown bag lunches and there will be desserts and other treats down in the campground for everyone once they get there."

The brown bag lunches can be purchased by anyone for $3.

Actual contents of the lunch are to be a surprise. Brochures on keeping fit and the advantages of physical activity will also be available.

For more information about the "Take a Hike Day," planned for Thursday, May 28, call the Education Services department at the Mountain View Health Care Centre at 335-9393.

Fond farewell

Rev. & Mrs. Swalm reminisced about the birth of the Mountain View Bible College last weekend during the college's salute to Didsbury. The salute was to say thank you and goodbye to the town as the college packs up its operations and moves to Calgary. The salute evening ended with a fire works display at Ross Ford.

Early pool plebiscite vote possible

By Janice Harrington

An early vote for those unable to make the scheduled pool plebiscite date has been arranged.

Mike Storey, Didsbury Town Administrator, said May 23 has been set aside for an advanced vote on the issue of whether or not the town should borrow money to build a leisure-centre type facility.

The vote will determine if Didsbury residents agree to borrow $1,078,715 to build the facility to replace the current indoor swimming pool. That pool had to be closed to the public because of structural problems.

Currently, the town has around $430,000 saved up for the project, which is estimated to cost $1.5 million. Money raised by the Build Our Pool Society will be used to make additions to the pool such as a water slide and hot tub. Design of the proposed pool allows these features to be added at a later date.

The official plebiscite has been planned for Tuesday, May 26 between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. at the Didsbury Memorial Complex, but Storey said proprietary electors who cannot vote on that day will be allowed to take part in the advanced poll.

The advanced poll is set for Saturday, May 23 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Didsbury Town Council Chambers. Early voters must sign a declaration stating that they have reason to believe they cannot vote at the regular poll.

Official results of the plebiscite will be released on May 30.

Wheelchair racing

Hospital staff took part in costumed wheelchair races last week as part of events for the 3rd Annual Nurse's Week Challenge. Nine teams of 5 competed in the race which was won by the dietary department, dressed as pigs on the Oink Mobile. Recreation therapists (above) won for best costume.

Lion presented with life membership

By Janice Harrington

Currently the longest serving member of the Didsbury Lion's club, Len Berscht received one of its highest honors earlier this month for his long standing work for the community.

The life membership, the first and only ever given in the Didsbury Lion club's history, was presented to Berscht at the Didsbury Trade Fair.

Berscht, who joined the Lion's in Didsbury in 1945, said the life membership is an honor. The Lions club is one of the four clubs Berscht still belongs to and remains active in.

Berscht, a long-time business owner in Didsbury joined the Lion's club the same year the charter was set.

"But I'm not a charter member," he said. "I was in the Air Force at the time of the charter, which was February. I didn't join until later that year, in October."

Berscht said he has seen changes in the Lion's club since he joined. He said it has changed from more of a social club to more of a fundraising club.

"There is just more demand for dollars nowadays," he said. "Used to be we had our fun and did the good turn by labor, by helping out more so than the almighty dollar. Now things just cost so much."

There are many things the club used to do that Berscht said just aren't done anymore.

"I've noticed as members, maybe it's just from the change in population over the years, but we just aren't as closely knit as a club as we used to be. We used to do things like the Lion's roar and singalongs, but we don't do it anymore. I guess it's just the changing times."

Berscht, a native Didsburian, at one time belonged to 8 different community organizations. He was a member of the town council for 7½ years and is a long-time business owner. He said he has remained a member of the Lions because of all the work they do for the community.

"We help a lot of organizations with scholarships and other charities. We spend quite a bit of money to help people out. I think that is important."

Berscht, who "officially" retired 15 years ago, presently owns and operates a memorial sales business in town.

Correction:

Information in last week's Review about a paint swap organized by Home Hardware was incorrect. Home Hardware will only be collecting unused paint and solvent for storage. This old paint will be stored for annual collection. No paint swap has been organized as was reported.

Charity tradition continues

Westglen School held its annual Charity Day on May 6 with a spaghetti dinner and a Pie in the Eye competition. Students could pay to plaster student council faces with whipping cream. This year $200 was raised to donate to the Multiple Sclerosis Society. In previous years, donations to diabetes, cancer, muscular dystrophy, and STARS societies have been given.

Blood donors wanted

By Janice Harrington

Another year has gone by and the Red Cross is again looking for donors for their annual blood donor clinic.

Frieda Derksen, hospital volunteer and organizer of this year's drive said she is hoping more people than ever will turn out to donate.

"This is the 10th year the clinic has been held in Didsbury," Derksen said. "And we have had to work quite hard at it because the support is not quite as good in Didsbury as it is in Olds."

Meeting the quota set every year for the Didsbury blood donor clinic has not been easy, but Glenys Maki, Clinic Coordinator for the Canadian Red Cross Society, said it is essential.

"The cost of bringing in the clinic from Calgary is quite high," she said. "So we need to be sure that there is a demand for the clinic, for people who want to donate in this area."

The Red Cross offers these mobile blood donor clinics once or twice a year in Didsbury, Olds, Carstairs and Cremona. The purpose is to collect the needed 1,000 to 1,200 units of blood needed weekly at hospitals supplied by the Alberta-Northwest Territories Division of the Red Cross.

This year's Didsbury clinic is planned for Tuesday, June 9 from 3 to 7 p.m. in the Didsbury Memorial Complex. This year, unlike other years, donors are being asked to present a photo or signature identification.

"The Red Cross has been collecting blood since 1947," said Maki. "But about a year and a half ago the government decided the Red Cross would have to be licenced, to tie the donors to take responsibility for their donor cards. Now it has become a legal document."

Maki said those without photo or signature I.D. (such as Mennonite donors) can just bring their Alberta Health Care cards.

The other requirements for those who would like to donate blood this year is simple. You must be free of prescription drugs for 72 hours, and of colds or flus for 7 days. These rules are just to ensure the safety of those receiving the donation.

"A lot of people look at the things we require and believe we are going to be taking half of their blood, but it just isn't true," said Maki. "The truth is we only take about 1/9 of the blood of an adult and they can continue with their normal activities. There are no ill effects."

Those who wish to donate are also warned that the entire procedure takes about 1 hour to 1 hour and 10 minutes, so time yourself appropriately.

If you wish further information about the clinic or you are interested in volunteering your time, you are asked to call 335-3569 or 335-8224.

OPINIONS/EDITORIAL

Yes or No?

By Janice Harrington

The upcoming vote on whether or not the town should borrow money to build a new indoor swimming pool facility will be a tough one. Do we take the extra taxes and forge ahead with the growth of the town or do we keep the property taxes as low as possible in these hard economic times?

While there are pros and cons for each side of this issue, everybody seems to agree on wanting the pool. There are no arguments against actually having an indoor swimming pool, everyone sees that as a plus. The minus is having to pay for it. Where are we supposed to get the money over the next 20 years to pay for a project such as this?

Granted, this project is going to cost money, but the truth of the matter is, the cost is minor in consideration of the rewards. Firstly, the actual dollar figure of $1.5 million for this facility is peanuts. The time and effort put into the design and operation of the proposed pool by the town swimming pool committee has really paid off. As I have said before in this column, they really did manage to find a great structure at a bargain basement price. Secondly, Didsbury truly needs this pool. We need the attention this kind of recreational facility will attract. It can only help to stimulate tourism and traffic, which in turn helps out local businesses. Having an indoor swimming facility in your neighborhood is a great way to attract convention business, swimming meets and other recreational groups to say nothing of what it would mean to people who actually live here.

Coming from the northeast end of Calgary, I can vouch for what the opening of the leisure centre did for the kids in the area. I was in high school when the pool opened and it made a huge difference in what myself and my friends did on the weekends and evenings. No more moping around the house, trying to decide what to do with my time and no more hanging around at the mall. Swimming at the leisure centre accounted for a large chunk of my time and got me interested more in sports and fitness than in other pursuits most commonly associated with teenagehood.

Truthfully, the cost of this proposal is small. It is estimated that the mill rate will only increase by 2.45 mills, a very small amount. Either we pay this small amount now and help attract more people to Didsbury, thereby increasing the tax base and helping to decrease the amount of tax we pay over the long haul, or we pay more and more later as people move away and businesses are lost.

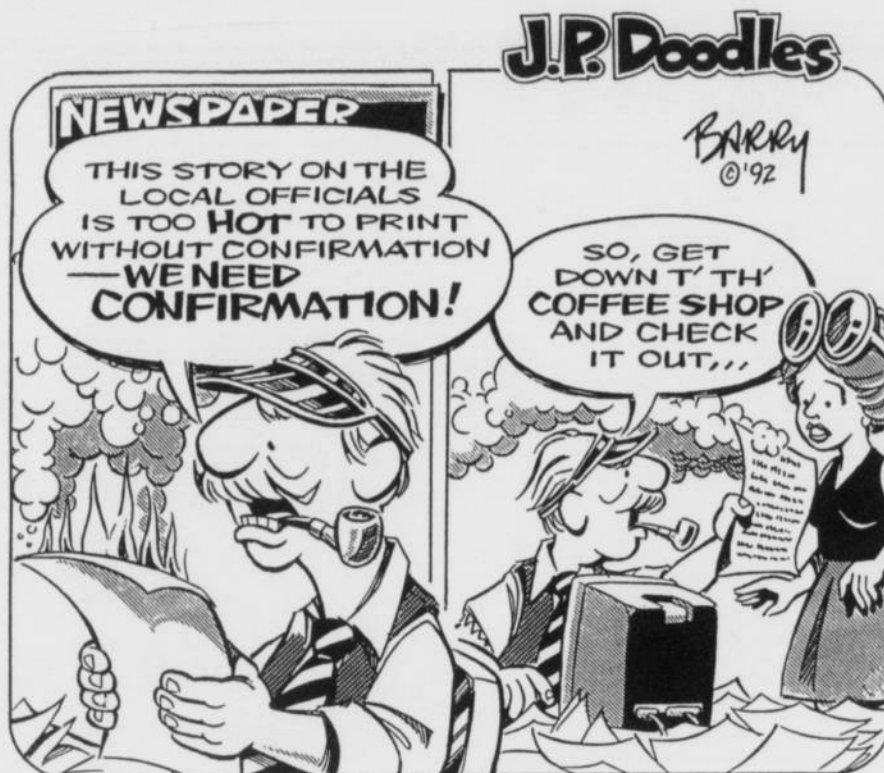

It's really an easy decision, but if you need more encouraging, come to the meeting this Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. at the arena. Besides talking about the proposed design and construction of the pool, they will also be discussing operating costs and other areas you may be interested in.

It seems response to the upcoming Women In Politics seminar has been lukewarm. Organizer Marjorie Malinowski said only a few locals have signed up to attend. I find this discouraging considering our looming municipal elections.

People really should attend this seminar. It is not only of interest to those who wish to run for political office this year, but also for people who would just like a little more information about what local political life is like. So many people complain about what goes on in town council, county council or the school board and yet they really have little idea about what these bodies actually do. It would seem only logical to educate ourselves before we jump to conclusions.

The seminar, despite being run by the Women In Politics group, is open to anyone who wishes to attend, not only the female of the species. Anyone interested in running for office, be it town council or the federal leagues, should consider attending. A little knowledge goes a long way.

The seminar is planned for May 30.

Equitable education urged

Dear Editor:

Over the years, the provincial government has steadily cut its share of education funding from approximately 90% to under 60%. As a result, the quality of our children's education is seriously jeopardized, particularly in rural Alberta. The New Democrats believe that education is a critical investment in Alberta's future and that the government must increase its fair share of school operating funds.

Rural school districts with small corporate tax bases are in the greatest danger because they lack the corporate tax base and resultant tax revenues of large school districts. Students who live in these districts do not have the same access to programs as those who live in wealthy school districts. The result is an unequal school system in Alberta, with a student's residence determining his or her educational opportunities.

Education Minister Jim Dinning's decision to begin using two student counts per year to determine school board funding will mean even less financial support for many schools, especially rural schools. The result will be increased class sizes in the autumn, temporary teaching positions, program cuts, and drop outs.

Since the cutbacks in 1987, all schools have had to economize. Many rural school boards are wondering where they will get the money to upgrade old schools or build new ones. Increasingly, the burden for education funding is being pushed onto local taxpayers. And the Conservative government does not seem to care that local taxpayers are already paying more than their fair share of education funding. In fact, it is more concerned about corporate taxpayers. The government froze its mill rate on commercial and industrial property this year, but no similar freeze is being considered for individual taxpayers!

The New Democrats are very concerned as we watch the Conservative government pushing a "Vision for the Nineties" that includes nearly 100 recommendations. The recommendations add expectations and responsibilities to schools at the same time that available funding for schools is shrinking. Because of funding cutbacks, the government has really down loaded the cost of education onto municipalities and school districts. Rural school districts face a tough choice: raise local taxes and maintain existing education levels, or cut programs. The government must start assuming its fair share of education funding.

Albertans deserve a government committed to providing quality education to all children. Our schools are providing the best education to our children with the resources they have. There is no more fat to cut and the Conservative government cannot expect schools to do more with less. We need a government which is committed to restoring education funding and which won't pass the buck onto local taxpayers. I encourage each of you to write the Minister of Education. He needs to hear that Albertans will no longer tolerate his government's dissolution of our education system!

Yours truly,
Stan Woloshyn, MLA,
Stony Plain, New Democrat

I was to the cemetery yesterday to the grave of our loved ones and was very upset to see someone had broken the box I had made for flowers.

When you are finally free of pain, then you have to have someone vandalizing your grave site, I am appalled someone could stoop so low. Well, I hope you can live with your conscience (if you have one).

GOVERNMENT NEWS

Renewed support for agriculture in '92-'93

Hon. Roy Brassard, MLA
Olds-Didsbury Constituency

On April 13th the Provincial Treasurer, Dick Johnston, released an economic action plan to boost confidence and get Alberta's economy moving. While Mr. Johnston has expressed the fact that tough choices had been made in this budget, I am pleased to report that the overall budgetary allocations to agriculture will exceed $730 million, a slight increase over last year. This budget is the result of two important government goals: to help the agriculture industry become more efficient and competitive in today's challenging global market-place and to empower producers to take greater charge of their futures.

Budget '92 renews our commitment to safety net programs such as the Gross Revenue Insurance Plan (GRIP), the Net Income Stabilization Account (NISA), and the Tripartite Stabilization Plans. In this budget we will provide $91 million to GRIP, nearly double last year's funding. Moreover, $40 million has been committed by the Alberta government to NISA.

Funding for several agricultural programs has been extended or will continue. For example, we are providing nearly $60 million to extend the Crow Benefit Offset Program. An additional $23 million has been committed to maintain grants under the Alberta Farm Fuel Distribution Allowance at 4 cents per litre for gasoline and 10 cents per litre for diesel fuel. Lastly, the government has reinstated the Alberta Sugar Price Reduction Program to help the bee industry offset feeding costs during the winter and early spring. The province will provide a rebate of $4.00 per 40 kilograms of sugar purchased as bee feed between June 1, 1991, and May 30, 1992.

Diversification continues to be a top priority in Alberta's agricultural industry. Accordingly, this year's budget has allocated $200,000 in funding to assist in the development of Alberta's sheep industry. As well, the Farming for the Future Program has been extended for one year. This program will provide $5 million to support research and on-farm demonstration projects in '92-'93.

We expect this year to be positive, dynamic, and rewarding for the agricultural industry. For the first time in years there are signs of improving conditions for our farmers. International wheat prices have increased by 30%, oilseed prices have firmed and livestock production should continue to grow. We await a new General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) which promises to reduce international subsidies and thus, restore strength to prices. I am hopeful that the new GATT agreement will eliminate trade barriers and improve access for Alberta products to markets around the world.

If you need to contact me, or just want to voice your concerns, please phone my constituency office at 556-3132, or my office in Edmonton at 422-0141 (collect).

MP's column

Louise Feltham, M.P.
Wild Rose Constituency

Look around the Province of Alberta—how many small towns and villages exist because of the services they provide for our farmers?

How many farms could survive without government subsidies?

A recent poll done in rural Alberta shows that 79% of Alberta farmers support the Reform Party. Surely farmers know that the stated policy of the Reform Party is to eliminate Agricultural Subsidies.

The logic, of the results of this poll, escapes me. It just does not mesh with the concerns I hear everywhere I go. Concerns with high costs of production and low prices for produce—another year when government money provides survival income.

Imagine how different our countryside would look if those small towns had fewer and fewer farms to sustain them. If, one by one, the villages and the towns became ghost towns, how desolate the landscape would be. Buildings that were once stores, schools, post offices, and gas stations, boarded up. Unkept yards and faded dreams are only romantic to an artist's eye.

I would love to hear your thoughts!

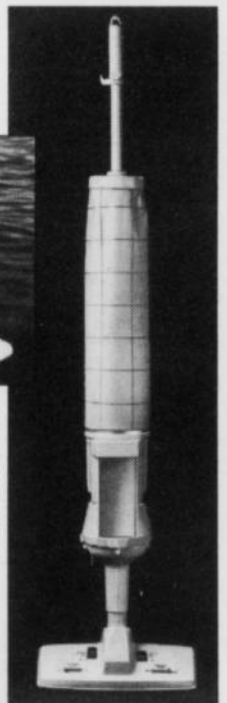

► It may look simply like footwear to you, but it's part of a $1.5 billion industry that employs more than 12,000 people.

► Competing successfully in the office-furniture market demands high quality and competitive pricing. Canadian companies provide both, which would explain why they export more than $300 million worth of office furnishings annually.

► Canada's recreational watercraft builders experienced some rough sailing during the recession. But with better times ahead and better products on the market, the future looks a lot brighter. That's good news for boating enthusiasts and the 3,000 Canadians who work in this $300 million industry.

► Small appliances aren't small when it comes to job creation. Some 5,000 workers in 65 companies produce nearly $500 million worth of small electrical appliances in Canada. No small achievement!

First Alberta beef congress

Beef production, from fencing and forages to new management techniques and consumer information, will be presented at the first annual program of the Alberta Beef Congress, June 16 through 18 in Red Deer.

Designed as a forum for beef producers, particular the cow-calf operator, the congress has a strong educational component for both producers and consumers.

"Producers will have the opportunity to rub shoulders with each other and be updated on new production techniques and management methods," says Dale Zobell, Alberta Agriculture regional livestock specialist in Red Deer.

Held at the Westerner Exposition in Red Deer, the congress has three feature presentations as well as six demonstrations for producers. Changing production practices in the '90s will spotlight a panel of innovative cow-calf producers who use fall calving, holistic resource management and a bull test station in their operations.

Larry Corah from Kansas State University will speak at sessions on both management and forage opportunities for profit in the '90s. Gary Bradshaw, an Alberta Agriculture family business specialist, will join Corah in the management discussion. Barry Adams, Lethbridge regional range manager for the Alberta public lands branch, will add his expertise to the forage session.

"The demonstrations will include a number of newer technologies producers might have heard about, but never seen," says Zobell. Bloodless castration, non-surgical spaying, breeding soundness evaluation, pelvic measurement and dystocia, fence corners and improving overgrazed pastures will be demonstrated. Three Alberta Agriculture specialists--John Basarab, beef management specialist; Ken Williamson, regional engineering technologist; and Bjorne Berg, forage and range specialist--will share their expertise in the latter three topics.

A trade show, school tours, livestock show, consumer program, awards, a Canadian Team Cattle Penning Association demonstration and competition, and a variety of social activities including a celebration of beef banquet are also on the congress agenda.

This first beef congress has been endorsed and supported by many sectors including Alberta

Agriculture and the Alberta Cattle Commission (ACC). Ernie Isley, Alberta's agriculture minister, will officially open the congress on June 16. The ACC will hold its semi-annual meeting during the congress and all ACC members from across the province will receive free admission to the congress.

As well, the Canadian Forage Association will hold its annual directors meeting during the congress and a holistic management resource seminar will be held.

The Alberta Beef Congress is organized by the Alberta Beef Congress Society in conjunction with the Red Deer Chamber of Commerce. For more information on the congress, contact Pat Kennedy in Red Deer at 347-4491 or FAX 343-6188.

Agribusiness scholarships available

Monsanto Canada Inc., Agricultural Group has announced that applications are now available for the 1992 Monsanto Agribusiness Scholarship program.

First offered in 1991, the Monsanto Agribusiness Scholarship is for high school students from a family farm who have successfully enrolled at a Canadian university in first-year Agriculture (any discipline) or Management (Marketing/Finance).

Criteria for the selection includes the student's academic standards and their demonstrated leadership in the community. Ten (10) high school students from each of the three prairie provinces--Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba--will be awarded a scholarship valued at $500 each.

Selection will be made during the summer by an independent panel. In 1991, a total of 30, $500 scholarships were granted to students whose parents are active farmers.

Application forms for the 1992 program are available at your local high school, or by calling (204) 885-6740. Application deadline is July 15, 1992.

Through this program, Monsanto is encouraging education by supporting prairie-farm people, their children and educational institutions.

College undertakes new project

Olds College has just signed a livestock management agreement with Landcorp Farming Limited of New Zealand, to develop a population of Boer goats on campus.

After six months of negotiations, representatives from Landcorp Farming Limited—a subsidiary of Land Corporation Limited—arrived on campus to sign the contract and help turn the sod on an embryo quarantine facility.

Olds College Farm Manager, Barry Schmitt, says a number of local recipient goats are now undergoing a conditioning process to prepare for the actual transplant procedure in October. "We prefer to wait until fall because that's when the natural breeding season occurs for most goats in this country. The embryos will remain in quarantine until then," explains Schmitt.

Exotic Goat Project Coordinator, Chris Neill, says Landcorp has experienced much success with the Boer goat breed. "We have been involved with the Boers since 1987 and our experience with them has been very positive as a quality meat producing animal," Neill says.

But Landcorp's strong genetic base is just one quality Olds College can draw upon under the new agreement. Being the largest farmer in New Zealand, Landcorp has extensive experience in the industry. In excess of 250,000 hectares of land is managed through the company along with 50,000 goats, over a million sheep, and 150,000 cattle.

Landcorp's Marketing Executive, Dr. David Warburton, says their involvement with Olds College will be mutually beneficial. "There is a lot to be gained through a cooperative approach to global agriculture, particularly given the relative skills of Landcorp and Olds. We need to understand that to accomplish a strong, long-term agriculture base you need both sound education and an adequate market base... without either element, it just can't work," Warburton explained.

Schmitt, finds the future educational implications of the arrangement encouraging. "This fits in perfectly to what we are striving to accomplish in a lot of our programs. Our whole approach to agricultural education in the future is steadily becoming more and more global in nature and we feel this is an excellent way to begin."

Sod turning event

Olds College President Dr. Bob Bigsby joins New Zealand's Landcorp Farming Exotic Goat Project Coordinator, Chris Neill, in turning the sod for construction to begin on Alberta's first-ever Boer Goat embryo quarantine facility. The New Zealand Landcorp Farming Limited company visited Olds College last week to sign a Livestock Management Agreement which will see a population of the unique breed developed in Olds.

Grant to cut emergency response time

By Janice Harrington

A grant from the Wild Rose Foundation may help to save some local lives.

The grant, made to the Olds Emergency Response Team Association earlier this month, will help the team cut precious minutes off their emergency response time.

Association President Jack Humphries said the $9,000 grant received from the Foundation will be used to purchase pagers for team members. Using the pagers will make the team's response to emergency situations much faster.

"Right now when a call comes in we have to call everyone up on the telephone and that takes quite a bit of time," Humphries said. "These pagers will shorten our response time considerably and that is really important particularly in life threatening situations."

The grant was part of $1,046,195 in grant allocations given out to 46 non-profit, volunteer community service organizations by the provincial agency over the first quarter of this year. Money given out by the Foundation comes from lottery generated funds.

The Olds Emergency Response Team has been operating in Olds for the past two years. The 15 members of the team are trained in such life saving techniques as CPR, basic rescue and first aid. They have also been trained in search and rescue and have received information training from Nova Corporation, CP Rail, TransAlta Utilities and Canada Western Natural Gas on the types of products they handle and what to do in emergency situations.

Humphries said the job of the team is to respond to emergency situations at the request of the fire department, RCMP or paramedics. Usually this happens when a greater number of rescue personnel are required, such as in larger accidents, for crowd control or for evacuation procedures.

"All our members are uniformed and have to have the basic training," Humphries said. "We work throughout the county and on a mutual aid basis."

The team's response bus carries 8 stretchers, 12 first aid kits and a burn kit. They can transport up to 4 casualties on stretchers and 10 others.

The team is a volunteer organization and is always looking for new help. If you live within a 10 km. radius of Olds and are interested in joining up, call Jack Humphries at 556-6775 or Carol Ringheim at 556-8858.

Snake Hill plebiscite planned

A plebiscite to determine the future of the Sundre's Snake Hill area will be held later this year.

Sundre Town Council decided to hold the plebiscite at their last municipal meeting.

The by-law which would redesignate the current recreation area to allow for a housing development has been a point of controversy since the by-law was introduced in early March.

The current housing proposal made for the area uses a 17 acre spread to create 75 residential lots. Concern by a number of Sundre residents and town councillors over the fate of the rest of the area if the development is allowed to proceed is what prompted the motion to hold a plebiscite on the issue.

The Snake Hill area, which is within the town limits, is full of trails used for hiking, orienteering, cross-country skiing and other recreational and nature-oriented activities.

The plebiscite is planned to be held following the town's municipal election in October.

New ministers welcomed

Two new ministers will be welcomed to the Carstairs Church of God this Sunday.

Evan and Bev Baum, formerly of Airdrie, will be officially installed in their new positions on May 24.

The Baums, who have two children who are attending Hugh Sutherland School; 10-year-old Kevan and 8-year-old Allanna, have been in the ministry for about 10 years. Evan has a Masters of Divinity degree and Bev has an M.A. in Religion.

Evan, who is also a licenced auto mechanic, has taken a number of counselling courses in grief and crisis intervention. He is most involved in clinical pastoral education. Bev has experience counselling street kids, battered women, children of divorce and abuse victims and also handles pre-marital and marriage enrichment counselling.

Both are campers and enjoy sports and other outdoor recreation.

Along with being installed in the church this Sunday, the Baums will also be officially introduced to the community.

ECS merger successful

Carstairs Early Childhood Services is now the second ECS program to successfully merge with the county school board.

The merger was sanctioned last week at the regular school board meeting.

Parents who have run the Carstairs ECS since it was established, voted unanimously to merge with the school board earlier this month. The two votes on the merger come at the end of a year-long trial merger between the two organizations.

This is the second ECS group to come under the administration of the school board. The Olds ECS joined with the school board at the end of the 1991 school year after what was also considered a successful trial period.

The merger of the Carstairs ECS program means that children will have better access to school resources and will be somewhat better prepared for grade one studies.

Cookie cutters

The 1st Olds dressed up to celebrate their last meeting of the year last week. They were happy to report that this year's cookie sales were great.

Nightingale Tea

The annual Florence Nightingale Tea and Bake Sale sponsored by the Hospital Volunteers was held Wednesday afternoon, May 13. The tea, commemorating 125 years of confederation in Canada, was opened by president Hazel Milne. Over 100 guests enjoyed a delicious tea to the violin and piano music by Dave and Evelyn Adams. Sales at the Bake Table and craft counter were brisk. Evelyn McMahon, Olds won the cushion donated by Kay Platz, and Betty Krebs won the other one. Audrey Persinger won the 6-pack of pop donated by Mister Soft Drink. The door prizes donated by Hazel Milne were won by Gwladys Bogner and Frieda Bartz. The Hospital Volunteers wish to thank all who helped make the Tea and the Sale of Carnations on May 8 so successful. The cooperation of the community in these events is greatly appreciated.

Congratulations to these students and best wishes for a successful completion of another school year.

Cremona & District Community Chest report for '92

The Cremona & District Community Chest reports that the 1992 collections to date amount to $14,187.00. Each year is even better than the last!

The Cremona Lions Club wishes to thank everyone of the donors, and a very special thank you to all of the canvassers who helped the Lions and for their super efforts in collecting the most ever, for this year's canvass.

The money is divided among: The Salvation Army, Red Cross, Children's Hospital Aid, Cancer Fund, Heart & Stroke Foundation, Arthritis Association, Diabetes, C.N.I.B., Horizon School, Paraplegic Association, Muscular Dystrophy, Multiple

Sclerosis; the Local Fund which is used for fire victims and emergencies, and this year we added the A.L.S. Society (Lou Gerig's Disease).

If anyone has been missed, your donation would still be very welcome. Please send it to any of the following people: Stan Pearson, Alton Gano, Lionel Bird, Charlie Bird, Boyd Osborne, or Ken Lloyd.

Thanks again everybody!

Going electric

(The following are some excerpts taken from the history book of the Cremona Rural Electrification Association Limited. The book, researched and written by Winnie Robertson and Ralph Olson, covers the work of the Association from its formation in 1949 until the sale of their power line to TransAlta Utilities in 1989.)

But I would like to take you back in imagination to the countryside west of Carstairs, before 1949. Imagine that you are driving west on the Cremona Road, on a cold winter night. All is dark. There are no flood-lit farm yards, no brilliantly lit gas plants. Each house emits only a very small beam of light, the feeble rays the result of a gasoline "mantle" lamp. You drive into the dark yard. Perhaps the farmer is still doing his chores, carrying a lantern, which is hung from a beam in the barn while he milks the cows—by hand. One of the children is delegated to pump the water, by hand, and carry it into the house where it is heated in the "reservoir"—a part of the kitchen stove, which is fired by wood and coal, or if you are very modern, by oil.

Food is cooked, even in the heat of the summer, with that kitchen range which heats the surrounding air to plus 32 degrees Centigrade. (Or should I say 90 degrees Fahrenheit, since this was before Celsius measurements were introduced to Canada?) In the wintertime, it is easy to cool food—you just set it out on the porch and it freezes solid in minutes. But in the summer, it must be stored in the basement, which is a little cooler than the rooms upstairs, but food quickly spoils without refrigeration. Garden produce is "canned" by heating full glass jars of vegetables in a boiling water bath for three hours. No quick trips to the freezer for convenience foods, and no zapping them in the microwave for quick preparation!

There is no T.V. and definitely no VCR. For entertainment, besides books, most houses have a battery powered radio—but you listen only to the news, and possibly to Fibber McGee and Molly on Saturday night if Dad likes that program! Batteries for radios are expensive, and kids are not allowed to turn it on just for fun!

When you wake up the next morning it is thirty below zero. (Old Fahrenheit zero.) Somebody in the family is sick and it is necessary to make a trip to the Doctor. Of course the car won't start. When you crank the starter, it doesn't even go z-z-z-z. You could bring the battery in to sit for awhile beside the kitchen stove, or even in the oven, thereby rendering it more effective. Or you could light the blow-torch and train it towards the oil pan, making the oil less like molasses in consistency, thereby making it easier for the starter to turn the motor over. Risky, but effective, if you must start the car. My Dad used to do that when Mom was teaching school. She believed in going to work regardless of the weather, and Dad would make every effort to keep her from walking the five miles to Sunnyslope School.

Sound primitive? I'm not talking about the dark ages. Many of these wonders were available to lucky city and town dwellers in 1949, and increasingly to farm communities which banded together to build their own power lines to carry the electricity which they bought from Calgary Power.

It was with this intention that a group of farmers met together in the Cremona Hall in January 19, 1949. (Appendix 1, 2 & 3) Some preliminary work had been done by Mr. Van Haften, who chaired the meeting. He spoke of the enormous expansion of rural Electrification throughout the province and the vast investments the power company would have to make, in building the line themselves.

That day it was decided to hold an organization meeting to form the Cremona Rural Electrification Association Limited, January 26, 1949. They had been told by the Power Company that there was much work to do, and they decided to start on it immediately. (Appendix 4).

In the past month I've spoken at three conferences about what's new in sewing notions. This week I'll share some of the information with you.

Elastic is used for fitting in a lot for garments. There are a number of new elastics on the market that really do a good job.

Clear or transparent elastic stretches to three times its original length yet recovers quickly. It retains its stretch when sewn through and is unaffected by chlorine. It comes in narrow widths and is particularly useful for swimwear and aerobic wear.

To duplicate the look of stitched rows of elastic, try sew-through sport elastic. The elastic has marked stitching guides which help you sew even rows.

Stitch'n Stretch elastic is stitched flat to a flat piece of fabric. Then the spandex cords are stretched and drawn up to size and the final garment seam is stitched. This elastic is not used on heavy weight fabrics.

There's a new waistband interfacing called fuse-a-ban. It is stiff like ban-rol and can be fused on to the waistband.

Space Tape allows you to mark and stitch accurate evenly spaced buttonholes from 1/4" to 1" in size. Stick the adhesive backed space tape to the garment and make your buttonhole through the tape. Tear away the excess tape. What remains in the stitched buttonhole acts as a stabilizer and prevents stretching.

I've had several calls about color running in laundry. That's when the red sock ends up in the wash with the whites. Dylan makes a product called "Run Away", a color run remover. I haven't tried it but it's worth a try if you have a problem.

Most of these items are available in the local fabric stores in High River and Nanton. Why not give them a try?

Many thanks to Diane Luke, DHE in High River, for this informative article.

Museum contest announced

Discover the past in your own back yard! Seventeen central Alberta museums have come together to organize a Passport Contest, offering an exciting prize to history buffs of a central Alberta history library, value over $300, to one person who makes it to all their museums between May 16 and September 7. Included in this library is Michael Dawe's An Illustrated History of Red Deer, books by Grant MacEwan, and many local history books, some unavailable in any bookstore. There will also be 10 consolation prizes of central Alberta pin sets given as well.

For a $4.00 charge the contestant will receive a Central Alberta Museum Passport which they are allowed to keep whether they complete the tour or not. Inside there is a page with a trivia question for each centre to be visited. Once the question is answered, the passport will be marked with that museum's unique stamp. When all stamps have been collected a page is left with the final museum visited and a draw is made to decide a winner after September 17, 1992.

This is a perfect means of passing a recession proof holiday, as well as for visitors in the area for a number of days. All of the museums are within a day's trip from Edmonton or Calgary as well as within easy reach of any town in central Alberta. There is always a place to stop to eat or picnic along the way. Six possible day trips are even suggested in the passport itself.

Most of the participating museums are small, volunteer run, working hard to preserve their local history and their place in the development of this province. Each has fascinating stories to tell and unique, even unusual objects to see.

Experience the pride that each has in their efforts and their commitment to their community as well as learn something about this unique and special part of the province.

Pick up your passport at the Didsbury & District Museum any Wednesday or Friday from 2:00 - 5:00 p.m. For information call 335-9295.

Comedy classic

Principle Theatre Players presentation of Charley's Aunt closed last weekend to rave reviews. The comedy, about two college boys who get a friend to dress as Charley's Aunt Donna Lucia to impress their ladies, was well performed, with the usual comic talent we have come to expect from Didsbury's own Tony Sylvestre who played the phony Donna Lucia. Special kudos should go to the set and costumes designers who produced an excellent reproduction of early 20th Century college life.

South West Didsbury news

By Bessie Eckstrand

Area would like to give a belated welcome to the new residents in the past year: Mark & Bobbie Charron and children Kyle, Nicole and Colin, who purchased a 30 acre acreage, 1 mile west and 1 mile north of Westcott. Mark works for Ico Roofing Industry and Bobbie is a part-time House Organizer at Quest Ranch near Cremona.

Nineteen ladies attended the coffee party at Westcott Hall on Wednesday morning, May 13th. Hostesses for the party were Debbie Wilson and Valdeen Kendze.

The Florence Nightingale Tea, the afternoon of May 13th, was well attended and the dining room looked very festive in blue and white decorations sponsored by the Hospital Volunteers under the direction of President Hazel Milne. Everyone enjoyed browsing around the craft and bake tables and visiting with residents and friends.

Date To Note: Evening of May 20th (weather permitting) Westcott W.I. are having their "Annual Pitch In" and Westcott Road Clean Up. Residents along the road will be phoned and hope they will assist in picking up papers, boxes and whatever in the ditches and put in garbage bags and put out on the roads. W.I. ladies will pick them up. Come on folks, assist in this project and make our country roads more beautiful than they are.

The moisture in the last several snowstorms has been most welcome and has ranged from 2-4 inches, even a blizzard for awhile a week ago. We wondered if it was winter again. Some residents experienced quite a bit of frost. Do hope it hasn't hurt the Saskatoons and apple tree crops.

People swimming in the Dog Pound Creek and others are encountering large numbers of leeches and a word to the wise—just rub on a bit of Life Buoy Soap onto your body and they won't bother you. Yes, where do you buy it? That's another question. You'll have to shop around.

FLASH! The best savings around can be found in the classifieds.

For this price you'd expect a lot less!

You'll get a lot more for less when you visit the newly renovated Highlander. A three-star quality room awaits you. And our staff is second to none in seeing to your comfort and enjoyment.

Didsbury lawn bowling news

On May 5, 24 interested members sat down to a delicious roast beef supper at 6 p.m. Thank you Eamor.

Eamor Gasser presided over the meeting with 1991 Executive being returned for the coming year.

Eamor reported that much work had been done on the greens and hopefully they will be ready for June 1. A busy season is planned: on June 6 a Bake and Garage Sale will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the greens. All saleable items donated will be gratefully accepted and should a pickup be needed, call the executive.

Following the sale-the evening will be devoted to bowling for "Champs" (amputee assoc.). All monies from this event is donated to Champs in support of their work with amputees.

On June 13th our club will host Red Deer Bowlers and they are to bring the Red Deer Challenge Cup for competition. Let's have our name on it this year. On June 29 a team from Airdrie will come to practise, ready for the Zone playoff July 5th.

Bernice Blois was elected

Draw Master for this year. Elsie Phillips is willing to give coaching classes to anyone wishing to learn the rudiments of bowling.

No need to have your own balls--as the Club has a supply and are available to anyone. We hope to see many new faces this year.

Didsbury Club will be hosting the Novice Games in July--so many players are needed. P. Pres. Chas Topping - 335-3547, Pres. E. Gasser - 335-3981; Treas. B. Casebeer - 335-3823, Sec. A. Pringle - 335-8224, is the executive this year. See you on the greens!

Didsbury Figure Skating Club news

The Didsbury Figure Skating Club held their 3rd successful Mystery Dinner Theatre on April 23, to start off the Trade Fair.

The Brookside Murders was well received by the audience. If you have never been to one you don't realize that without the audience participation the show would not be a show. The cast of Tony Sylvestre (the infamous Inspector Bird), Steve Dietrich, Linda Pothier, Laurel Mullen, Al McCoy, Rod Collinge, Leah Krebs, Karen Pieper, Barry McCulloch, Linda Brander, Terry Phillips and Rick Phillips are all involved with the Skating Club as parents, skaters or coaches. Parents involved in previous plays were Marion Jacobson, Cliff Brennon, Toni and Greg Pilkey, Laura Lee Hrabok, Brian Pothier, Glen Chernow, Debbie Christensen, Dixie Viney, Edna Murphy, Colin McEwen, Wendy Krebs, and Rhonda Hunter. Hats off to these fine people as for 3 weeks before the play these members of the club volunteer hours of their time rehearsing and rehearsing, as our director, Derek Lewis, guides them through the pages of the script. Clare and Geoff Nathan-Simons provide the props, lighting, some costumes and any other little thing that needs to be done. Ruth Jepson does their make-up and Theresa McNeil caters the food for supper. At the end of each show the audience votes on who they think did it, this year's winners were, Arnold McCulloch who received a pair of sunglasses donated by Mountain View Sports, Terry Viney; a T-Shirt from AG Foods, and a Clue Game donated by Ward Value Drugs went to Laura Krebs. A big thank you to everyone who has been involved in one of our plays and a pat on the back for those who have supported us.

This is our major fund raising project to help offset ice rental as it keeps going up every season. This way our membership fees can stay reasonable enough for the children of Didsbury to skate.

A flood of thought

The fortunes of a hockey coach may switch from rich to meagre,

To see the way they're treated makes one wonder why they're eager.

A team with prissitis or some pampered bum won't play, And instantly the wolf pack howls that some poor coach must pay.

TV, newspaper, radio, couch critics and their ilk, Blanket, have learned the trick of typing brandbags out of silk.

Just when a hockey coach begins to figure he's all set, Somehow the tides of fortune sail a surplus into debt. His system doesn't matter, where he coaches, how or why,

The fast fact is indelible, teams win or coaches die. Into EACH Life some rain must fall, so goes a line somewhere,

But often rain looks for a coach, and with a dump, falls there.

Jets take season opener

By Kevin Krebs

The Didsbury Jets rallied from a five run deficit to defeat the Sundre Outlaws 7-6 last week.

The Jets gave up four runs in the first inning, but picked up three in their half of the third.

The game was 6-4 in favor of Sundre going into the seventh inning when the Jets exploded with 4 consecutive hits to move ahead of Sundre.

Darren Bitzer did the rest of the work for the game on the mound, pitching a strong game; striking out 7 and picking up the victory.

The next game for the Jets is Tuesday, May 19th at home against the Olds Bears.

Hockey card set winner

Justin Shultz was the winner of the Didsbury IGA's in-store draw for a limited edition Calgary Flames Hockey Card set.

The set is a framed collection of autographed players cards. The draw for the set was made May 13.

Sports fantasy local's business

By Janice Harrington

Ever dreamed of having your face appear on a trading card?

If your team or organization looking for a unique way to recognize its members?

Or are you just looking for an interesting way to market yourself or something you have for sale?

If so, then Didsbury resident Larry Lentz has the answer for you.

Lentz, who has spent many hockey seasons taking team photos for minor hockey, has begun a new business—putting your face or saleable item on trading cards.

"I started looking around for a way to make the cards like the real ones but in small quantities and economical," Lentz said. "Then I found this one. I can put the kids on the front and put room for the statistics on the back."

The cards, which are thick and sturdy like real trading cards, are made so they can be autographed and so statistics or any other message you would like can appear on the back. Lentz said he can make up cards for any sport, including, hockey, basketball, baseball, ringette, dancing and ice skating.

But use of the trading cards is not limited to sports. Lentz has taken the concept a step farther and used them in some unique ways. Recently he made birth announcements with a picture of the newborn on front with all the information about the birth and the baby on the back. Cars have also made it onto the cards, either as a showpiece for sports car enthusiasts, or as a means to get the message out about a car for sale. Lentz is even looking into using the cards for business.

"They can really apply to everything," Lentz said. "I have tried to get the look and feel of the professional cards without copying them, and I am having fun with it."

The business, which Lentz has named "R" Star Photos (as in look at this card, it's a picture of "R" star), is a sideline business for the part-time pastor. He also takes team photos, makes pins and can put together packages including cards, pins and photos to suit each team or organization.

If you are interested in these ideas or would like more information, you can call Lentz at 335-3408.

Caption decoder won

A Didsbury resident was the winner of a television caption decoder at a recent conference in Vancouver.

Helen Lane won the decoder at the Conference on Independent Living for Handicapped People. Lane, who has a hearing impairment, will use the decoder to receive captions while watching her favorite television shows.

Lane is currently looking to start a Hard of Hearing Chapter in Didsbury.

United Church conference report

By Margaret Gardner

Woodcliff United Church of Calgary hosted the 30th Annual Meeting of Alberta and Northwest Conference U.C.W., April 27-29, 1992 with 92 women in attendance. In celebrating the 30th anniversary, six past presidents were honored. Eight Presbyterians reviewed the 30 years with novel presentations of their busy and rewarding activities and special events. Also, Bonnie Denhaan of Yellowknife brought a message of greetings from the Yellowknife U.C.W. that connects to Peace River Presbyterian, now to be called "Northern Lights" Presbytery. She outlined the Yellowknife U.C.W.'s work with the YWCA and other organizations for battered women, etc., and she also gave a brief geography lesson with a Northern perspective.

The delegates were taken by bus to eight Social Agencies, gaining insight into the conditions of the poor, lonely, and addicted street people, young and old. This gave a background for the theme, "Celebrating an Old Faith in New Times," which was ably interpreted by guest speakers Linda Ervin from Kitsilano United Church, and Multicultural and Ethnic Ministry of Vancouver, and Elizabeth Muir, Stewardship Education Officer, from the National Office, Toronto.

Jean Schmitt, Marion Whitman, and Debra Morris, accompanied by Eileen Demison on piano, led lively music selections. Books and merchandise were displayed for sale from the United Church Book Room with Betty Lou Clark, Edmonton, and Judy Klassen of the Calgary Book Resource highlighting some publications.

Division presentations included a video on Sexual Harassment, Biblical References for good Stewardship and promotion of Mission and Service Fund, World Outreach featuring slides by Lee Ellis, Overseas Personnel in Agriculture Development in Angola, Communication with film "Grizzly Creek Solution," Christian Development introduced the new song book, "All God's Children Sing" and reported on Naramata and Life Long Learning.

Other special reports were of St. Andrews and St. Stephen's Colleges, C.G.I.T., Consultation, Ecumenical Decade, Western Women's Conference, and Tickertapes and Typewriters.

Guests at the banquet included the Rev. Robert Mutlow and Kathie Mutlow, and Helen Stover-Scott, President of Alberta and Northwest Conference.

Lakeview Light Shine Singers entertained with a musical "The Story-Tellin' Man."

Marion Tredger and Elaine Dryburgh led the Installation Service, installing the new President, Carolyn Stuber of Calgary, as well as the other officers for the new year. A moving Memorial Service was celebrated by Sheila Johnson. Linda Ervin and Elizabeth Muir conducted an inspiring Communion Service.

ion Service.

Irene Quigley, retiring President, expressed appreciation for the hospitality of the Woodcliff Church and the cooperation of her executive.

United Church news

By Shirley Wilfong-Pritchard

Red Deer Presbytery of the United Church of Canada held its fourth and final meeting of the church year April 29-30 at St. Andrew's United Church in Lacombe. Representatives and guests to Presbytery gathered to worship and discuss the life and work of the church.

It was passed unanimously that this Presbytery "communicate with B.R.A.S.S.A. and with the A.T.A., urging both parties in the present labour dispute to remain at the negotiating table until a just settlement is reached, leading to the re-opening of public schools in central Alberta without delay." Letters to this effect were also sent to the Ministers of Labour and Education.

The annual May Youth Rally has been postponed to September 18-20 at Camp Kasota. The camp still needs teen camp counselors and adult leaders. An Adult Leisure Camp is being offered August 24-27, at a cost of $20/day.

THERE'S NO ALTERNATIVE TO CONCRETE Concrete is the basement building material with all the advantages.
It's a proven performer. Toughest tough. Durable. A concrete basement will never burn or rot. And concrete is safe. Quality controlled concrete needs no toxic chemicals which may be hazardous to building occupants.
Concrete is an energy wise choice.
A concrete basement needs little heat or air conditioning. And concrete walls are easily insulated.
Economically, concrete is a good investment. A concrete basement will add years of life to the foundation and considerable dollars to the resale value of your building.
Add up the advantages. There's simply no alternative to quality controlled concrete. The best basement building material.

Didsbury Lifeline news

By A. Pringle

A meeting of the Lifeline was held on Tues., May 12 in the town office at 9:30 a.m.

The President reported that a table had been set up in the Ford Motor Booth and had many inquiries regarding the Lifeline in this area. Thanks go to Ford Motors and C & L Boutique—where a unit and brochure had been on display over the weekend—for giving us space.

There are 23 units in Didsbury and community and all are happy, that should it be necessary, help is available on the pressing of a button. Anyone wishing more information, please call Anne Milne, 335-3494 or F.C.C.S. office, 335-9255.

The next meeting will be Sept. 8 at 9:30 a.m. in the Town Office. We welcome interested parties to come and be involved in aiding the Handicapped and Seniors to have a safer life.

Didsbury Library news

The Top Ten Best Seller list is out from United Library Services and Didsbury Town Library has purchased all 10 paperbacks. (They also stock some of these selections in hard cover.)

As the crow flies by Jeffrey Archer, "H" is for Homicide by Sue Grafton, Covenant of the flame by David Morrell, A soldier of the great war by Mark Helprin, Skymaster by Dale Brown, The Tokaido Road by Lucia St. Clair Robson, Boy's Life by Robert McCammon, The other side of love by Jacqueline Briskin, Shadows of yesterday by Sandra Brown, The Firebirds by Beverly Bryne.

From "H" is for Homicide by Sue Grafton, "... H" is for Homicide finds Kinsey Millhone working on a case involving the death of a claims adjuster for a California insurance company. The story takes her into the Los Angeles barrio in pursuit of a violent criminal, into jails and hospitals, and into a grungy bar named the Meat Locker... Count on Millhone not only to corner the murderer but also to make a statement against the foibles of the insurance game."

Remember: If the book you wish to borrow has already been lent out the staff at the library would be happy to put your name on a reserve list!

Mount View Lodge news

By Annie Caush

Hi all! Well, we've had our May snowstorm so now we can look forward to summer.

Here at the Lodge we're busy as usual with a variety of activities. The recent Pool Tournament produced the following winners: "A" Side - 1st Ray Luckham and 2nd Ama Gulbe;
"B" Side winners were 1st Gene Funkhouser and 2nd Sid Smith.

Sunday was Mother's Day and all the ladies in the Lodge received corsages from the Ladies Auxiliary to the Lodge.
Thanks so much.

At the Auxiliary meeting last week the Treasurer presented the proceeds from the Spring Tea

(just over $1,700) to the Mount View Foundation Building Fund.

One evening last week Mrs.
Owens brought her "Dancers" in and entertained us. As usual it was a most delightful performance and was much enjoyed.

One afternoon the "Mother's Four", a singing group sang for us. We also had the Catholic ladies to call bingo one afternoon.

It's so nice to be able to write news with no one in the hospital.
We trust we will all continue to keep well enough to remain at home.

Our newest residents are Mrs. Poffenroth, Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Young. We welcome you to our Lodge.

Church News continued from page 14

overly aggressive medical treatment of elderly or terminal care patients. It was requested that letters be written detailing experiences of excessive testing, unwanted medical intervention, experimental drug use, etc., to either the Alberta Medical Association or to the Rev. Dale Watson of Sunnybrook United Church, 12 Stanton St., Red Deer, T4N 3J6.

Heartfelt best wishes were shared with friends who are moving/changing their ministries this summer. The Rev.
Hugh Baine of Rimbey and the Rev. Doug Pratt of Red Deer will be retiring from their current changes. The Reverends Bill Cantelon of Red Deer, Neil Lemke of Bowden, Travis Cann-aday of Didsbury and Cremona, and Bob Aldrich of Carstairs will be joining new presbyteries. And the Rev. Stuart Jackson and his family will be moving from Alix-Delburne to Ponoka.

The 68th annual meeting of Alberta & Northwest Conference will be held in Red Deer, May 28-30, with Commissioning and Ordination Services on Sunday,
May 31, 10:30 a.m. at Gaetz
United Church. Red Deer Presbytery hopes to receive three ministry settlement placements this year. Red Deer Presbytery is very pleased to announce that the Rev. Paul Mullen of Wetaskiwin will become the new President of Conference for 1992-93.

Cards of Thanks

Coombes, Edward E. (Ted)
We would like to express our sincere thanks to our family and dear friends for their support during our recent loss of my husband and our father grandfather.

A special thanks to the ones that did so much driving, also to the ladies that served the lunch, for people that phoned, sent flowers, cards, baking and donations to the Cancer Fund and the Palliative Care Unit in the General Hospital. Thanks To Rev. Frank Cummins for his words of comfort.

To the pallbearers for their kindness. Also Ernie McCulloch for his singing. Your love and kindness will always be remembered.

Ruby Coombes, Family & Grandchildren 5-1tp
